THE SAINT-MICHEL GATE

Iconic monument of the city of Guérande, the Saint-Michel Gate bears witness to the power of the city in the Middle Ages. Both a fortified gateway and a dwelling-castle, it is today the only interior of the medieval enclosure open to visitors.

A little bit of history

The Saint-Michel Gate is THE most emblematic historical monument of the medieval city of Guérande. With more than 6 centuries of history, it was in turn a lodging-castle at the time of the Dukes of Brittany, a prison during the Revolution, a town hall from 1815 to 1954 and a museum from 1928.

Its monumental architecture still bears witness to the prestige and power of the city in the Middle Ages. During the course of history, it was the seat of political power and quickly became a symbol of the city's identity. Classified as a historical monument since 1889, it is the scene of the greatest events in Guérande.
